Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease

and is an umbrella term used to describe progressive lung diseases including emphysema, chronic bronchitis, refractory (non-reversible) asthma, and some forms of bronchiectasis. This condition is characterized by increasing breathlessness.

Bronchitis or feline bronchial disease.

But the word disease is a man-made given name, if we treat the cause then all symptoms should dissolve e.g viral, bacterial, fungal. This can be done with the help of herbal medicines. Bronchial spasms cause the individual bronchi to constrict or tighten, and the resultant swelling of surrounding tissues puts the cat into a full-blown asthma attack (respiratory paralysis).

HUMAN - Asthma sufferers know exactly what an asthma attack feels like, as coughing quickly ensues, in an effort to expel the excess mucous. Attacks can be quite scary. Asthma affecting the upper region of the lungs is often allergic in origin i.e. there is an allergic substance that the lungs are trying to expel. (via wheezing, coughing, and also by creating mucus in the lungs to wash it out.) Some of the main culprits are pollen, grasses, smoke (from fires, or from cigarettes), cat or dog fur and dander (especially in the summer time of the year when winter coats are shedding). Aerosols like deodorants, hair sprays, perfume, insect, flea and fly sprays can also get into the airways and trigger an attack.

We suggest using in conjunction with the Asthma Set also include the non-drug. Allergen formulas. eg. AN059, AN060, AN061 request all three allergen formulas to be sent complimentary with your Asthma set. Please quote the AN numbers.

NASAL BLOCKAGES * See HAMPL Nasal Blockage 62 50ml drops

1. Chronic or recurring sinus infections
2. Asthma
3. Allergic Rhinitis or Hayfever type allergies.

Signs and Symptoms.

- Blocked nose
- Runny nose
- Postnasal drip
- nasal stuffiness
- nasal congestion
- reduce sense of smell
- breathing through the mouth
- sleeping problems
- snoring loud breathing noises

STEAM Therapy

Put your cat in shower room on a mate, towel or your cosy dressing gown, several times a day when having showers and run hot water in shower for 5-10 minutes each time. Don't let them get wet at all.

HERBAL MEDICINES

How to give the "HERBAL MIXTURE" to a small pet or feline.

Felines / Toy Dog / Rabbit: Add 50 drops of a herbal formula with ½ teaspoon of slippery elm powder into a small cup, then pour boiled hot water (about 3 tablespoons) mix it up well so it's a runny paste, then add a little more cold filtered water just enough so the consistency is very runny (note- by adding hot water to the herbs will help dissolve alcohol content). Then oral syringe side of mouth very small sips until 1ml is taken or add to meals.

In another oral syringe

And 1 satchels (1 teaspoon) of Liposomal Vitamin C, and several drops of magnesium and mineral liquid (e.g ReMag) and several drops of the ReMyte (mineral solution) in some liquid. Using a small oral syringe, we draw up the liquid and gently in the side of mouth squirt 1/4 ml or less, repeat until 1 ml is taken. Or After you have made up the diluted mix you can mix 2ml of this into meals, depending if our pet is eating well or not.

We may find initially we have to oral syringe this, but as appetite and wellness strengthen they eat with vigor and therefore less difficult to mix into each meal. If your pet drinks milk, avoid full dairy and use goats milk water down a bit.

DOUBLE THE AMOUNT FOR LARGER PETS.

* You can also add the other suggest supplements to this mixture. The other obvious potential allergen is food. A raw natural diet will help his general immune system though, and this means he will be able to withstand more. If the cold air is a problem, keeping him indoors at night and also maintaining an even temperature in the bedroom (if possible!) might help.

The air purifier could be beneficial too. Some kennels may have a Damp environment - that could mean they have both been exposed to fungal molds growths such as Aspergillus - so the Sinus Aid drops would be beneficial for both of them perhaps, as this contains many anti-fungal remedies. And the Herbal COPD drops has the olive leaf to also work on fungal infections.

Further information.

Studies carried out on 224 cases evaluated for a lower respiratory disease that was present in each case.

Primary diagnoses included: Pneumonia (35.3%) (for this we use the HAMPL Pneumonia 112-1 - homeopathic's) Airway collapse (35.3%) (for this we use the HAMPL Trachi Aid - homeopathic's) Bronchitis (29.4%) (for this we use the HAMPL Respiratory Aid - homeopathic's) Fourteen cases had follow-up information available. Stating that the mycoplasma spp. is recognized as a primary cause of respiratory disease in several species. Mycoplasma spp. as the sole bacterial isolate cultured from airway washings in 224 cases evaluated for a lower respiratory disease that was present in each case. The relationship between Mycoplasma spp. and respiratory disease detected in some of these cases suggests some Mycoplasma spp. may act as primary pathogens in dogs and cats.

We often include the Mycoplasma Pneumonia nosode and Mycoplasma bacteria nosode treatment remedies in the Asthma formula. So we have combined these three homeopathic formulas into the one bottle including Mycoplasma remedies. This is now our HAMPL AsthmaLung formula drops.

Please note that Vaccinations severely deplete Vitamin C from their body. A reason it is so important not to deplete vitamin C any further and why it is a good idea to start adding this to daily meals along with the Magnesium. Magnesium Deficient can cause Asthma attack. Vitamin C is an anti-inflammatory that helps reduce and prevent inflammation and swelling.

Liposomal Vitamin C

Vitamin C is a ~ antibiotic~ anti-toxin~ anti-oxidant~ anti-histamine~ anti-viral~ anti-depressant

Vitamin C is an exciting new vitamin c supplement utilizing Liposomal Encapsulation Technology for Maximum Bioavailability. This has a much higher absorption rate with over 90% of the cells being bathed in vitamin C. Experts suggest that liposomal vitamin C is vastly superior to IV vitamin C – an expensive but effective procedure that is done quite often in hospitals and alternative health clinics. This combination produces an advanced form of vitamin C which releases slowly over a period of time producing maximum cellular absorption of vitamin C. Clinical trials have shown that this form of vitamin C, being coated with phospholipids allows up to 90% of the vitamin C to be absorbed by cells, due to the fact that the phospholipid coating resembles the body fats within the cell walls. This compares very favorably to about a 20% absorption rate of intravenous vitamin C into cells. The cell membrane blocks much of the vitamin C that is in the bloodstream from getting into the cell. The liposomal membrane is able to fuse with the same material and configuration that resides on cell walls. This results in a lower minimal necessary dosage and saves a tremendous amount of money and stress to the consumer. Will not cause upset stomach or diarrhea (unlike other vitamin C's when having to take high doses).

Liposomal Vitamin C is able to produce serum levels of Vitamin C nearly double those thoughts theoretically possible with any oral form of Vitamin C.

IMPORTANT also to add the FOLLOWING

Use this Nutritional Support supplement - In conjunction with the homeopathic drops on the body

1. Magnesium Ionic in liquid 240ml, called "ReMag Magnesium Solution"
2. Minerals Ionic liquid 240ml. "ReMyte Mineral Solution" 12 minerals.

Viral and Bacterial Diseases.

Magnesium supplement has a unique healing power on acute viral and bacterial diseases. It is also called bronchitis or feline bronchial disease. Bronchial spasms cause the individual bronchi to constrict or tighten, and the resultant swelling of surrounding tissues puts the cat into a full-blown asthma attack (respiratory paralysis). Asthma suffers know exactly what an asthma attack feels like, as coughing quickly ensues, in an effort to expel the excess mucous. Attacks can be quite scary.

It is also called bronchitis or feline bronchial disease.

Mycoplasma pneumonia as well as at least 7 other mycoplasma species have now been linked as a direct cause or significant co-factor to many chronic diseases including, rheumatoid arthritis, alzheimer's, multiple sclerosis, fibromyalgia, chronic fatigue, diabetes, crohn's disease, ALS, nongonoccal urethritis, asthma, lupus, infertility, AIDS and certain cancers and leukemia, just to name a few. Mycoplasma is the smallest free-living disease agent found in humans and animals and is unclassified as either a virus or a bacteria, but possesses characteristics of both. The microbes have no cell walls and were originally thought to be related only to several strains of pneumonia; however, researchers have now identified at least seven mycoplasma species, which may cause or be co-factors in other serious diseases. Due to their size and lack of cell walls, mycoplasma are capable of doing great damage to the body and treatment with antibiotics is generally ineffective.

Felines fungal infection in lung.

Merck Veterinary Manual (pps 760-761) says that 40-45% of chronic, feline upper respiratory diseases are caused by Rhino virus, Herpes virus, Calcivirus, Chlamydia or Mycoplasma. In other words, there are diverse causes of cat-lung problems.

Holistic Animal Remedies

Signs of Magnesium Deficiency

The classic physical signs of low magnesium are:

Neurological:

Behavioral disturbances
Irritability and anxiety
Lethargy
Impaired memory and cognitive function
Anorexia or loss of appetite
Nausea and vomiting
Seizures
Insomnia
hyperactive

Muscular:

Weakness
Muscle spasms (tetany)
Tics
Muscle cramps
Hyperactive reflexes
Impaired muscle coordination (ataxia)
Tremors
Involuntary eye movements and vertigo
Difficulty swallowing
reflux

Metabolic:

Increased intracellular calcium
Hyperglycemia
Calcium deficiency
Potassium deficiency

Cardiovascular:

Irregular or rapid heartbeat
Coronary spasms

You or your pet might be magnesium deficient if you also have any of the following symptoms:

- Insomnia
- Irritability
- Sensitivity to loud noises
- Anxiety
- Autism
- ADD
- Palpitations
- Angina
- Constipation
- Anal spasms
- Headaches
- Migraines
- Fibromyalgia
- Chronic fatigue
- Asthma
- Kidney stones
- Diabetes
- Obesity
- Osteoporosis
- High blood pressure
- Menstrual cramps
- Irritable bladder
- Irritable bowel syndrome
- Reflux

Most (adult human) people benefit from 400 to 1,000 mg a day.

The most absorbable forms are magnesium citrate, glycinate, taurate, or aspartate, although magnesium bound to Krebs cycle chelates (malate, succinate, fumarate) are also good.

Avoid: Magnesium Carbonate, Magnesium Sulfate, Magnesium Gluconate, and oxide.

They are poorly absorbed (and the cheapest and most common forms found in supplements)
